SPIRITUAL TELEGRAPH.—Friends of Spiritualism: To meet the demand of the timea and to turnish an earthly channel through which the important facts and communications emanating from the Spirit World may be collected together and presented for the matual benefit of mankind, it is proposed to establish in the City of New-York a paper, to be issued weekly, commencing the first week in May, 1952 to be entitled as above.

The Spiritual Telegraph will be devoted chiefly to an impartial presentation of the evidence of intercourse between the natural and spiritual worlds, and communications of general interest from spirits, through whatever medium and wherever they may have been given, and however diverse the sentiments may be in themselves, or from those held by mortals; to the end that all the facts in spiritual phenomena, and all the sentiments expressed by spirits, may be brought together in one sheet, and made accessible to every person, energiding thought, progress and social intercourse, and exert their influence in harmonizing and elevating mankind.

We shall endeavor, in this paper, not to enforce opinions upon any one, but simply to suggest inquires, that all may investigate and think for themselves. We shall neither prescribe limits for others, nor erect an arbitrary standard for ourselves. While it will strive to avoid all acrimonious dismitations, it will tolerate the most unlimited freedom of thought, impassing no checks except when liberty is made the occasion of affence. It shall be free indeed, free as the utterant of the spirits—subject only to such restraints as are essential to the observance of these friendly relations and reciprical duties, which, with the very current of our lives, must flow into the great Divine Order and Harmony of the Race.

Other business resources of the Publisher preclude the necessity of his depending upon this enterprise for support. Nor will be accept of any pecuniary profit

1. The True Constitution of Government in the Sovereignity of the Individual. Part II. Cost the Limit of Price, a Scientific Measure of Honesty in Trade. Two parts in one volume. By Stephen Pearl Andrews. Published by FOWLERS & WELLS, New-York and Boston. Price 75

This work claims to be a solution of the Great Social Prob-lem; a demonstration of the principles of Individual Sover-eignty; an interpretation of the laws of equity in social and commercial intercourse; an exposition of the fundamental principles which must form the basis of a True Social Organ-ization. Simple and original in its principles, clear in its statements, exact in its logic, forcible in its applications, un-compromising in its conclusions, it is commended to the at-tention of those who are seeking to solve the problem of hu-man destiny.

compromising in the control of those who are seeking to solve the problem of human destiny.

"Mr. Andrews has clearly produced ideas which sconer or later must force themselves on the stiention of the public. The fittiness and ability with which he has treated them are potent to the most enterprivate."

"This is a work by an original and vigorout thinker. He views are stared with great clearness, and argued with to little subslicity and force."

"Ye can give no fair synopsis of the author's views, positions and arguments. To be fully understood and appreciated, they must be read—read in extense, and carefully and thoroughly examined."

"Mr. Andrews, the author of this work, is an able writer and a profound thinker."

"This is one of this most remarkable productions we have ever yet read, as well because of the novel views it communities so of the masterly style in which they are expressed. Were his sentiments so many fabrities, it would still be a lugary to read an author who so well expresses himself. Mr. Andrews is no destructive. He has in him nothing of the Red Republican—at least, not in the offensive sense of that designation."

"Andrews is the theoretic and historic philosopher of what may be regarded as the specifically American form of Socialism. It is the work of an American philosopher, handled in that eminently practical manner which in all things is peculiar to Americans."

NAN-OLL: Of, The Massacre of Chicago—By Major Richardson.

This is a deeply interesting narrative of one of the most thrilling incidents of the War of 1812. The pseudicty romants nature of Incident warfare is depicted by our author with the truthfulness and lifeline touch of a great strict.

The author of Wau-Nan-Gee, since the demise of Cooper, stands unrivaled as a writer of the romance of Indian warfare. The book now put forth is perhaps the most interesting story of the kind which has ever instead from the American Press.

This is a work of intense interest, connected with one of the most thrilling a cree that ever occurred in the Indian warfare of this continent. The author has sustained, and exceeded his previous high reputation—investing the terrible scenes of real history with a romantic interest that renders them fascinating (Western Journal, A powerfully drawn picture of Indian warfare—its cruelies, atroctics, and also its strange, wile romance.
